

5282

Pair of South Indian Hand-Carved Fore and Aft Indian Snake Boat Prows

1st Quarter 20th Century

these unique carvings are from a Churulan Vallam, a traditional narrow boat used in the famous snake boat races of Kerala, South India and powered by approximately 45 people; the prow is carved as a "churul" meaning a ring out of local aini wood and adorned with incised carvings and inset metal embellishments; some missing metal elements with overall wear and abrasions

Height: 28" 27"

Seat height:

Width: 30.5" 29"

Depth: 5.25" 5.5"

Diameter:

Drop:

$10,400