

5471

Pair of South Indian Hand-Carved Fore and Aft Indian Snake Boat Prows

circa 1910

these unique carvings are from a Churulan Vallam, a traditional narrow boat used in the famous snake boat races of Kerala, South India and powered by approximately 45 people; the prow is carved as a "churul" meaning a ring out of local aini wood and adorned with incised carvings and applied metal embellishments; some missing metal elements with overall wear and abrasions; age cracks

Height: 35.5" 25"

Seat height:

Width: 27" 23"

Depth: 6.5" 6.5"

Diameter:

Drop:

$7,750